CHAPLAINS MESSAGE

What is the Church? When most people hear that word, they immediately think of the building where we gather for Mass and the sacraments. Of course, the word “church” does have that reference, but the deeper meaning is the community of believers and the hierarchy of the Church that preserves its’ truth. Here are two of the best definitions I have heard of the Church. The first is from a priest who had taught his parishioners to respond to visitors who state that they have a very beautiful church – “Thank you, and we think the building is nice, too!” The second came from a minister who offered a similar thought. When someone asks: “Where is your church?” He would respond: “Let me see. Today is Tuesday. Mr. X is visiting the nursing home, now; Mrs. Y is cooking her weekly meal for a neighbor...” You get the point. Of course, the highlight of the week is gathering for Mass, and it is not incorrect to use the word to refer to a building. However, both these examples offer food for thought. In the same way, meetings are the highlight of our Council, but they are not the real meaning of the Knights of Columbus. The real meaning is in all the activities and services that are performed between the meetings. We can tell a prospective candidate when and where we meet, but to help them really understand the Knights, the better answer is to tell him all we do! Keep up the good work!

Msg. Ken

MESSAGE FROM YOUR GRAND KNIGHT

Fishing: A Lesson in Life

This article was written by me 26 years ago and published in a fishing publication. I believe its message deserves repeating and is still true today.

Summer vacation is upon us and my 12 year old daughter has already asked “When are we going fishing Dad?” For the past 12 summers we have vacationed in Maine. Some of her favorites are boating, water skiing, and swimming and of course fishing, which is the main purpose of our trip.

Often I think back when I was young and growing up in Brooklyn. I couldn't wait for my father to come home from work, eat his dinner and take me fishing. Many times he seemed a bit tired, but not wanting to disappoint me and being a true fisherman himself, we were on our way. With our fishing gear packed, Mom made sure we had a hot thermos of coffee and sandwich's to last the night. With that in hand; we headed for Riis Park or Jones Beach in search for stripers or bluefish.

I can still recall those cool nights on the beach, the light glowing from our Coleman lantern and my dad at my side instructing me in the rules of true sportsmanship. Things like how to unhook the smaller fish without injuring them and releasing them back into the water hoping they would grow to maturity so other fisherman would experience the thrill of a “Good Catch.”

Those times spent fishing with my father were not only times of pleasure but were also lessons in life. They taught me respect for all living creatures, patience and how to relax waiting for the fish to bite. These benefits I reap today in this hurried and fast paced world we live in.

My wife Geraldine and daughter Linda share in my love for the sport while we plan quality time together. Whether it is big game fishing for marlin in the Caribbean or Hawaii or bonefish and tarpon in the Florida Keys or just a drive to New England for small and large mouth bass on the lakes and rivers, we stay together as a family.

Fishing has certainly molded my life from sport, to nurturing a lifelong family hobby. Today I am willing to share experiences with all who are interested and to share my expertise with all who ask.

Those “lessons in life” that were taught then and cherished now must be passed on to all generations to enrich their lives and to teach respect for life as God's gift to us.

Happy Father's Day!

God Bless, Fraternaly
Frank Ingrassia, GK

INSURANCE MATTERS

Sometimes it is easy to overlook the simplest of things.

Take the beneficiaries on your life insurance policies. If your policy was applied for and issued several years ago, it could very well be that the beneficiary originally designated to receive the proceeds from that policy needs to be updated. If you bought the policy when you were single, for example, you may have named your parents as beneficiaries. If you have since been married, that could be updated to reflect your spouse, and even your children.

Most people list a primary beneficiary – that person is specifically designated as the first in priority to receive policy proceeds. We also encourage the naming of a contingent beneficiary – an alternate person designated to receive policy proceeds, usually in the event that the original beneficiary pre-deceases the insured.

When I call to arrange your annual “insurance check-up,” one of the matters that we can discuss is the status of your beneficiary designations. If they need updating, and they often do, I can usually complete the paperwork during the appointment.

I look forward to meeting with you to review all your life insurance policies.

Bob Dodds (609) 978-6396
